Nancy finds a friend

by Abi Lemonier
Once there was a very lazy cat named Nancy. When she was little, she liked to chase butterflies and ladybugs. She liked to chase the bubbles her owner blew. Nancy loved to play outside. But now that she is old, she just sleeps, sleeps, and sleeps some more.
One day a new kitten came from the Pound. Nancy did not know because she was sleeping, but not for long. The new kitten walked down stairs. She saw Nancy, she woke up Nancy. Nancy was startled! She sent the kitten away.
Nancy couldn't sleep. And after a while Nancy was bored and she felt sorry for the way she treated the kitten. She went to go find the kitten. She went outside. Nancy heard a little meow. She followed the sound. The kitten was hanging off the roof. She needed Nancy's help. Nancy climbed on to the roof. She grabbed the kitten and helped her back on to the roof.
Once they got off the roof the kitten thanked Nancy and then the kitten said my name is twinkle and they all lived happily ever after.
