KCOS Art Auction Terms of Agreement

KCOS reserves the right to refuse art at any time during the Art Auction Process.

Selected works are complete donations to KCOS by the artist or gallery. If, for any reason the donated work is not auctioned, it will be retained by KCOS and used for other charitable purposes. KCOS takes all reasonable care in handling works of art; however, will not be held responsible for loss or damage. KCOS reserves the right to photographically and electronically document any artwork accepted in the auction for use in catalogues, publications, publicity materials, online, or for purposes deemed necessary to KCOS Art Auction operation.

Handbook contains complete rules and guidelines and may be viewed or printed online at kcostv.org/artauction.

Juried artist's name and town may be released to the media.

I hereby certify that all of the information submitted with my application to compete is true and correct. I have read the KCOS Art Auction Handbook, and will accept and comply with the rules as written.
