

Secret Stalker

by Yusuf Davidoff

"Uhhhh." Is what Jeremy moaned when his mother told him to do the chores.

First he took out the trash, then he cleaned his room, and lastly, he checked the mail. But in the mail a paper said "We know all, we see all." Then he looked inside again and saw a key in the envelope. He felt a strange feeling of mystery and intrigue. He then ran to his mother and showed her the paper and the key. She then exclaimed "Jeremy, I know you're trying to play a prank on me."

Jeremy then exclaimed "This is genuine mom." His mom rolled her eyes. Jeremy then went to his father and he did the exact same as his mom. He ran outside and he checked the mail box again for more clues. But then he felt a needle pierce through his skin. Then he felt lightheaded and fell asleep. He wake up, in a dark room with only one light bulb. Jeremy then heard some foot steps and in came a walking man in a formal suit with a mask. Jeremy then yelled "How did I get here? Why do you want me? And who are you?" He first said "I tranquilized you and I brought you here." Next he said "I brought you here because I need new victims." And lastly he said "I will never tell you who I am." But then Jeremy remembered he had the key to unlock the door that was there, he ran for his life, grabbed his phone, and called 911. The creepy man then got arrested. And there was no more disturbances for Jeremy.
