A SERVICE OF THE UNIVERSITY OF CENTRAL MISSOURI
LEARNING TO A GREATER DEGREE
Trisha Yearwood and other country music artists open up the music vaults for an intimate look at legendary female artists, their stories and songs, and why they’ve stood the test of time.

A love letter to the women of Nashville, Iconic Women of Country Music pays tribute to 14 icons of country music—Dolly Parton, Tammy Wynette, Loretta Lynn, Patsy Cline, Brenda Lee and others—with heartfelt stories from ten contemporary artists, including Yearwood, Wynonna Judd and Kathy Mattea.

This program includes the following performances:

- Kitty Wells “It Wasn’t God Who Made Honky Tonk Angels”
- Connie Smith “Once A Day”
- Jeannie C. Riley “Harper Valley PTA”
- Barbara Mandrell “Sleeping Single In A Double Bed”
- Patsy Montana “I Want To Be A Cowboy’s Sweetheart”
- Dolly Parton “Love Is Like A Butterfly”
- Tammy Wynette “Stand By Your Man”
- Brenda Lee “Big Four Poster Bed”
- Loretta Lynn “You Ain’t Woman Enough”
- Jean Shepard “Second Fiddle”
- Patsy Cline “Walkin’ After Midnight”
- Dottie West “Country Sunshine”
- Lynn Anderson “I Never Promised You A Rose Garden”
- Minnie Pearl “Comedy Routine”

Fireflies, Father’s Day & Summer School!

During this strange and uncertain time of Coronavirus, KMOS-TV continues to be committed to providing you with programs you can trust and rely upon no matter what is going on in our world. We know things have changed but we want you to know we are here for you as always!

KMOS-TV is proud to help support our educational community by broadcasting "KMOS Classroom Summer School" FREE to the families in our region.

"KMOS Classroom" is brought to you through a partnership with KMOS-TV, the University of Central Missouri’s College of Education and the resources and support of PBS LearningMedia. Summer School will provide FREE educational support for students in grades K-8, who like many other students, had their school year cut short.

"KMOS Classroom" will be scheduled for different grades at different times, and will be on KMOS-TV 6.1 Monday through Thursday mornings during the months of June and July, with a focus on science, technology, engineering, math and the arts. We do hope that you, or somebody in your family, will take advantage of this offering and you can see our schedule on www.kmos.org/classroom and follow us on social media @kmostv to find out about updates or changes.

As it is June - congratulations to the Class of 2020 and a hearty Happy Fathers Day to those amazing dads in our lives! June is a month when we can see fireflies and glorious blooms in our gardens and we can enjoy the sun at its height with the northern hemisphere's summer solstice!

This month also brings you our summer pledge with on-air fundraising and some exciting new shows for your enjoyment. We are especially pleased to present for the first time on KMOS a classic BritCom that you are sure to enjoy. Dame Judy Dench and Geoffrey Palmer star in "As Time Goes By" - a story of long lost love renewed. "Keeping Up Appearances" returns after a little holiday away. We're sure Hyacinth would be delighted to share here holiday brochures.

COLUMBIA DAILY TRIBUNE
For families seeking economical assistance in preparing their elementary school children for the fall semester, and to make up for the school closures of the spring semester, KMOS-TV and the University of Central Missouri will provide free on-air classes beginning June 1. "KMOS Classroom: Summer School" will be broadcast on KMOS channel 6.1 each Monday through Thursday between 9 a.m. and noon. See pages 8 & 9 for the schedule.

"KMOS Classroom" uses the expertise of professionals in UCM’s College of Education to design and present lessons in multiple subjects for students in grades K-5. Families can receive "KMOS Classroom" over the air using a UHF antenna, or through local cable and satellite providers serving central Missouri. Although many educational resources and programs are available online, limited availability of high-speed internet can make it difficult for some rural families to use them.

Three student teachers will conduct the televised classes: Alli Hickey of Lee’s Summit, Kamryn Williams, Odessa and Ashley Zades, Grain Valley. They are completing their degrees in Elementary Education and will soon begin teaching in local school districts this Fall. In preparing for the classes, they are working under the guidance of Dr. Angela Danley, Associate Professor and Undergraduate Program Coordinator for Elementary Education. The women have experience teaching children in person, according to Danley, but “They have adapted to the challenge, and know they are definitely teaching to a large group of children across 100 school districts. I am not sure they realize the impact and influence they will have on children. They will be able to carry this experience with them for the rest of their lives.”

As KMOS-TV is a non-commercial public television station licensed to UCM, it has provided educational programming and services since it first signed on in 1979. Between 1980 and 2003 KMOS provided educational programming for schools through its Instructional Television Service (ITV) as well as Ready to Learn workshops for educators and Parents as Teachers in subsequent years. Of "KMOS Classroom," UCM provost Dr. Phil Bridgmon says “Supporting the education efforts of our schools, children, and families is a critical need due to the disrupted school year.”

The UCM College of Education has a longstanding tradition of producing quality educators since its founding in 1919, and the institution’s beginning in 1871 as the State Normal School for the Second Normal District of Missouri.

In the weeks to come, more information about "KMOS Classroom: Summer School" will be available at www.kmos.org/classroom.

In addition to these new televised classes, KMOS continues to use its catalog of general education programming for students in grades 6-12 weekdays noon to 2:00 (see page 7). We know that this poses an inconvenience for viewers who enjoy regular programming during these hours, and we appreciate your patience.

Programming each day is grouped by curriculum in the following manner: Monday and Tuesday - History and Social Studies, Wednesdays - Performing and Visual Arts, Thursdays - Language Arts and Fridays are Science and Career.

Educational resources including videos are available through kmos.pbslearningmedia.org.

All of the KMOS Classroom lessons, programs and schedules are available at kmos.org/classroom.

As baby boomers downsize living spaces and settle estates, this series can help aging homeowners catalog a lifetime of belongings, locating treasured heirlooms and unexpected valuables in the attic, closet, or even under the floorboards. Host Matt Paxton, a nine-season veteran of A&E’s Hoarders, is joined by military memorabilia expert Avi Hopkins, fashion collectibles authority Jaime Ebanks, and Mike Kelleher, a walking encyclopedia of pop culture trinkets and antiques. The team is shown above examines a 44 star flag.

NEW TO PBS KIDS!

HERO ELEMENTARY

Check out this school for budding superheroes, where kids learn to master their innate powers, like flying and teleportation, while exploring science along the way. HERO ELEMENTARY aims to give children ages 4 to 7 the tools to solve problems by thinking and acting like scientists and igniting their natural curiosity and empathy. See schedules below and right for changes.
